A Great Conclusion to 2010

I have just returned from an outreach in Tulsa, Oklahoma ministering with the Fellowship of Christian Farmers and I can tell you that the last farm show of the year for us ended in a big bang. Literally several hundred people, mostly FFA kids (Future Farmers of America), prayed with us to receive Jesus into their lives as their Lord and Savior. But the thing that made me the most happy was that several people came up to us and said that they got saved last year at our booth and that they are still following the Lord today.

At the end of October I traveled to Indianapolis, Indiana with 3 others to minister at the National FFA Convention. We saw hundreds of kids come to the Lord during those few days.

Response from the Web

Richard from the Philippines wrote, "we downloaded your tracts and started distributing it to our community. I'm a new pastor with 200 members. I'm happy for your website because we share the same conviction - the task to testify the Gospel of salvation."

We also received a very encouraging message from Phyllis in Hawaii. She found our website while looking for a way to share the Gospel using salvation bracelets. We have found that using them is such an easy way to begin a conversation and share the Gospel and that is what she discovered as well. While at the store buying the supplies to make salvation bracelets a girl working in the store inquired about what she was making and it naturally led to the opportunity to share the Gospel. Phyllis has an earnest desire to win people to Christ and we are thankful that God has used our website to encourage her.

Expectations for the Year Ahead

This past year we were blessed with many salvations in our outreaches that we traveled to and on the streets of St. Louis during Friday night Street Ministry that I can't help but to be excited about the coming year and all the salvations that will take place in 2011. We have all heard of the negative things happening on our streets and all of the great temptations our young people face nowadays but in the midst of it we are going to see the greatest harvest of souls that we have ever seen.

A couple of scriptures come to my mind when I consider all of this. One, Romans 5:20, "But when sin abounded, grace did much more abound." Although sin has been abounding among our young people and in our society as a whole I believe we are going to see multitudes of people come to the conclusion that sin is death and a curse. They are going to come to the only light and life-Jesus Christ. Secondly, Proverbs 4:18 says, "But the path of the just is as the shining light, that shineth more and more unto the perfect day." As we keep following in God's path of preaching the Gospel to all the world, our light is going to shine more and more. We are going to see more and more people being saved and disciplined through our outreaches, radio programs that go throughout the world and through our free Bible Correspondence Course, Stepping Stones. We will also see Christians encouraged and empowered to reach others for Christ through our Evangelism Workshops.

Our Partners will share in the reward of what God does through this ministry as it is their generosity and faithfulness that makes it possible. Thank you so much! And remember, with the shaky economy the best and safest investment you can make right now is giving into the Kingdom of God.

Goss Family Update

Kara, our eldest, graduated from High School this past year and began her freshman year at Southeast Missouri State in Cape Girardeau, Missouri. Leticia is a junior in High School and really enjoys playing soccer. Tommy is still all about baseball and has added fishing to what he likes doing. Our kids are growing up fast and we are thankful for God working in their lives.

Merry Christmas!

During this season may we not forget the wonderful gift God gave the world in sending His Son, Jesus Christ.

In Christ,

Jeff Goss
